The Community Services Commission met on January 20th at 5:50 PM PST in the City of Irvine council chambers.

The agenda included the review of the final Risk Report on disc golf as an ammenity at City of Irvine parks and discussions around the items we had been assigned to accomplish in the December meeting.

The Council reviewed the co-authored (by City of Irvine staff and members of the IDGC course redesign committee) disc golf course design criteria and approved them for official use for red-level (casual play) course design.

Additionally, the Deerfield 9-hole short-term course redesign was presented to the Council for their approval. The course redesign met the previously approved criteria and the Council voted unanimously for construction to begin. City staff expressed the desire to begin the ordering process immediatly and expected the course to take 2-3 months to complete.

The Council asked that we continue to work on the mid-term and long-term goals previously set out for us.
